Love is not a non-renewable resource!

[So if you give it away,

it comes back to you even greater!]

From Fr Barry: I love the answer of Pope John 23rd to a reporters question: 'how many people work in the Vatican' He answered: 'I should think about half of them'. It came to mind as I read two quotes from Cardinal Marx: Cleaning the stairs: I was very often in seminars or courses for heads of companies, and what was always clear: the stairs are cleaned from above, not from below – from the top down, not the bottom up. So the leaders must begin; the chiefs must begin. The mentality must change, The church is not a business, but the methods are not so different. We have to work more in teams, in projects, The question is: Who has the resources to bring these ideas forward? Not, who belongs to the clergy? God gives us all these people, and we say, 'No, he is not a cleric, he cannot do this job' Or 'His idea is not so important'. That is not acceptable, No, no, no. [Card R Marx, interviewed by Luke Hansen, America]

The declaricalization of power: The declaricalization of power is very important in the Roman Curia and the administration of dioceses. We must look at canon law and reflect theologically to see what roles require priests; and then all other roles, in the widest sense possible, must be open for lay people, men and women, but especially women. In the administration of the Vatican it is not necessary that clerics guide all the congregations, councils and departments. It is a pity that there are no women among the lay people in the Council for the Economy. The specialists were chosen before I started as coordinator, but I will search for women to serve in this role. [ibid]

Congratulations to Fr David Standley on his golden jubilee of ordination, he will celebrate the 8.30 am Mass today. He is a priest of the Archdiocese of Southwark. Congratulations Father.

Churches Together in Dorchester: There is a meeting of the enabling group on Tuesday 11 July at 5.30 pm. The Full Governing Body of St Mary's School meets on Wednesday 12 July at the school at 6.00 pm.

Companions for the Quiet Space, Poundbury: A reminder to us that one of the ways we can support the work of the Quiet Space is to become a companion, and to be present for a couple of hours whenever. If you are interested in this role, then do see me.

The Parish Finance Committee has met and approved for publication our parish accounts for the last financial year [April 2016 to March 2017] they are available at the rear of the church. Any questions to Fr Barry or Terry Hooley [Parish Treasurer]. They also looked at various things that need doing around the church, parish centre, convent and presbytery. We will be busy with these things over the summer and autumn months!

Children's Liturgy: Sundays in July, 9th at 8.30am and 16th at 10.30 am Masses. Then we will break for the summer vacation. More catechists always welcomed!

Hot Weather: Or should I say warmer weather! You may have noticed that for most Masses in the summer months I tend to wear an alb and a stole rather than with a chasuble also. I am not saying anything by this other than that I get very warm, and don't want to overheat on the sanctuary!

The Gate from the Presbytery garden to the South Walks Road you will find locked from time to time, this is on advice, and is a reminder to us that it is not a general pathway to the parish centre!

Weddings at Holy Trinity: Please keep in your prayers those preparing for Marriage, especially Holly Burke and Alistair King who were married here on the 8 July.

Church Car Park: will be locked from time to time as a reminder to all that it is not a general car parking space! It will usually be open for the liturgies that take place in the church.

We have had several suggestions about the ability to open the church for longer, The rota for keeping the church open even a few hours a day, is not really working. Though we will continue to offer this in the meantime. The CCTV has been mentioned and that helps, though it does need loading every day and watching. Also some sort of inner porch, mostly of glass is an opportunity - but it would cost. Any other ideas? [Can I remind people that in order to keep the church open at the moment, even for a few hours a day it requires at least two people to sign up for each slot. One person, one name is not enough I am sorry to say. It would be good to fill the rota in for several weeks at a time!]
